

THE CHARIS PROJECT

The aim of the Charis Project is to promote the spiritual and moral development of pupils through the teaching of a range of subjects across the curriculum.

The Charis Project resources have been published in the following subjects: English, French, German, Mathematics and Science. Full details are available on the inside back cover.

The Charis Project had been funded by the Jerusalem Trust, one of the Sainsbury Family Charitable Trusts.

The Charis English Team:

Anne Adamson	Waltham Toll Bar School, Grimsby
Chris Akhurst	formerly Chesterton Community College, Cambridge
Peter Harding	Secondary English Advisory Teacher for Lincolnshire
Anthea Tulloch Bisgrove	Davenant Foundation School, Essex

Writers:	Chris Akhurst and Anthea Tulloch Bisgrove
Editor:	John Shortt Head of Research and Development, The Stapleford Centre
Theological Advisor:	Rev. Gerald Hughes

The Charis English Team are grateful for the advice and comments from the following teachers during the preparation of these resources:

Sue Berridge	SEN consultant
Ruth Bessant	St Aiden's CE Primary School, Blackburn
Stephen Gordon	Birkdale School, Sheffield
Andrew Marfleet	Researcher in education and OFSTED inspector
Pam Sephton	Grace International School, Bangladesh

Project Manager:	Alison Farnell	Head of Curriculum Resources, The Stapleford Centre
Project Assistants:	Wylva Davies, Heather Miller, Catherine O'Connell

Graphic Design:	Alex Marsden, "Splash! Creative Design", 28 Marlborough Road, Nottingham NG5 4FG t: 0115 926 6809 e: info@splash-design.co.uk
Illustrations:	Richard Warren, St Chad's Rectory, The Windings, Lichfield, Staffs WS13 7EX
Printer:	Progressive Printers, Westbury Road, Basford, Nottingham NG5 1EJ t: 0115 970 1485
